Reinterview took place at Kellers Church a few days ago for Pfc. George A. Lear, who lost his life in the battle of Leyte. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lear, Ottsville R.D., the young man had been inducted into the army in September, 1942.

After training at posts in Alabama, North Carolina and California, he was assigned to an infantry unit in April, 1943 and left for Alaska. He participated in the Attu campaign.

Later he saw action in the Marshalls Islands, and later at Leyte. He was 24 years of age when he lost his life.

Residents of Perkasie, Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Trauner, were given a pleasant surprise last week, when children and grandchildren, as well as several friends arrived at the cottage of their daughter at Sellersville, to help celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary.

The feted couple received gifts, and a program of music was followed by the serving of refreshments.

With Mrs. Henry W. Garges as hostess, Warrington Women's Club held its first meeting of the season at the Garges home, near Warrington, last week. In attendance at the meeting, in charge of the president Mrs. Eugene Krammes, were 47 persons.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The four military governors of Germany ended yesterday the first phase of their talks without final agreement on numerous details for introducing Soviet currency into Berlin or ending the Russian blockade of the city. They discussed the crisis resulting from Communist raids on the City Assembly, but made no protest. The city's political situation grew worse. Russian troops and the German police in the Soviet sector tightened their hold on City Hall.

A special session of the National Security Council to discuss the Berlin crisis was called by President Truman on his return to the White House. Washington withheld comment, but London made it clear that the British viewed the situation in Berlin seriously.

Britain, replying to Moscow's note suggesting a meeting of the Big Four Foreign Ministers to discuss Italy's colonies, was said to have indicated interest in the proposal.

The new Schuman Cabinet failed, 255 to 289, to obtain a majority in the Assembly and France faced a new crisis when the entire Cabinet resigned. Assembly President Herriot, in protest against the Radical party's vote against M. Schuman, quit his party post.

alleged reactionary demonstrations at the funeral today of former President Benes. Dr. Benes' nephew resigned as Czech consul in San Francisco in a protest against the Communist Government.

A heavy artillery and machine gun duel, which Israeli sources said had been started by Arabs, caused numerous casualties in Jerusalem.

Two events emphasized the tension in India. Prime Minister Nehru demanded that the Indian Army recapture parts of Hyderabad, which is trying to remain independent. In United Nations circles it was felt that the Security Council must act promptly in Kashmir to prevent the war in which Pakistan and India are on opposing sides, from spreading.

The second week of the trucking strike in the New York metropolitan area began with the rejection by operators of union proposals for a new contract. Negotiators were not hopeful of an early settlement. While the strike had not seriously affected food supplies or prices, it was feared that a milk shortage might result from a halt in delivery of milk containers.

Canines Are Students At Unique Classes Being Held in Fallsington

LEARN WITH MASTERS

FALLSINGTON, Sept. 8.—"Susie" and "Jackie" aren't the only ones with new school responsibilities on their shoulders these days, for Rover, too, may be a student. The Canine College, here, holds classes each week for a number of dogs—complete even to the homework on the agenda.

The "college" is operated by Mr. and Mrs. James Perkins, who, with some other owners of fine dogs, conceived this way of having the services of Tess Henseler, A. K. C. licensed professional handler, locally available. Miss Henseler's home and Ahrtal Kennels are in Ottsville. Owners of would-be-educated dogs accompany their pets to the site of the school each Wednesday evening, where both owner and pet are put through training routine by Miss Henseler, who teaches the "masters" to make their own dogs obey.

This method is only a fraction as costly as having a trainer train a dog away from its master, and has the added advantage of enabling the owner to train to obedience any other dogs he may later acquire.

There are three types of courses," Mr. Perkins explained, "the novice course, advanced course" Continued on Page Four

Playground Committee At Fallsington Needs $300 To Pay Debt

TO BE HELD SEPT. 25TH

FALLSINGTON, Sept. 8.—The Falls Township Playground Committee of the Fallsington P. T. A. is planning to hold a White Elephant auction sale on the Falls school grounds Sept. 25 starting at 10 a.m. In case of rain the sale will be held the following Saturday.

The purpose of the sale is to clear off the deficit on the new athletic field of approximately $300. The total cost of the field was $5,000. The Falls Township school board appropriated from their funds $1,500 toward the cost and the rest of the money to date has been raised through the efforts of the committee and the generosity of friends and townspeople. The field included an area of eight acres. On the field will be one football field, one hockey field and a baseball diamond.

Another part of it will be used as a practice football field. The graduating class of '48 donated enough money to erect a backstop for the baseball diamond.

Included in the white elephant auction sale will be various articles donated to the committee by the people of the township. A few of the articles already listed are stoves, Continued on Page Four

In The Name And By Authority Of The COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

PROCLAMATION

Pennsylvania Week — Sept. 26th to Oct. 2nd, 1948

In the observance of Pennsylvania Week, the citizens of this great Commonwealth have a new opportunity to celebrate the present rich heritage in which we are privileged to share.

Pennsylvania Week provides an occasion for united action to assure that this heritage will be preserved in enriched form for generations to come.

Endowed with unusual wealth in natural, industrial and human resources, Pennsylvania has long been known to the world as the Keystone of the Nation. Founded on the doctrine of religious freedom, this State has ever encouraged self-reliance and fostered freedom of opportunity and enterprise for its men and women. Characteristic of this spirit was the early espousal of the principle of free education, which through the years has so vastly benefited the community as well as the individual.

We, as Pennsylvanians, can take deep pride in the fact that it was on Pennsylvania soil, that the representatives of the thirteen original colonies met to form a union of free states, and that it was also on Pennsylvania soil that that Union withstood its most severe test in the Civil War.

We can take pride also in Pennsylvania's vast resources, her versatility and manifold attainments in industry and commerce, and her amazing diversity of products. Though two of her cities rank among the ten largest in the land, Pennsylvania is one of America's great agricultural states, holding second place in rural population. Though she is but thirty-second among the forty-eight states in size, she ranks second in total population. Though she is world-famous for preeminence in industry, one half of her land is covered by beautiful forests which afford pleasant areas for recreation.

This celebration of Pennsylvania Week, however, is not a mere rejoicing in glories past and present. Pennsylvanians must look to the future too, ever searching for new endeavors which will mean continued growth and prosperity for the local community and for the State.

NOW THEREFORE, I, James H. Duff, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby designate and proclaim September 26 through October 2, 1948, as Pennsylvania Week, to be observed by the citizens of our Commonwealth as an opportunity to acquaint themselves more fully with the resources, development, history and potentialities of their home State and their home community.

I ask that this occasion be marked by appropriate exercises to be held in the schools and other educational institutions, and by business, civic, fraternal patriotic and religious organizations within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to the end that our great State may be assured of continued growth and prosperity, with the energetic support of an enthusiastic, active and well-informed citizenry.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this 8th day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and seventy-third.

"No Passing" Signs Are Placed at Andalusia Hill

ANDALUSIA, Sept. 8.—Due to efforts of Andalusia Lions Club, Penna. state police, and the Penna. Dept. of Highways, "No Passing" signs have been erected on Bristol Pike hill from City Line to Walnut avenue.

These signs have been sorely needed for a number of years, as several people have been injured or killed on thepike due to the extreme speed with which cars pass each other on the hill.

When the matter was brought to the attention of Senator Edward B. Watson by the Andalusia Lions Club, he co-operated to his fullest extent. Ralph Stern, Bristol Pike, is chairman of the Safety Committee of the Andalusia Lions Club.

HE "CROSSED THE T"

Retirement of Vice-Admiral Jesse Barrett Oldendorf, U.S.N., recalls that he was the salty strategist who "crossed the T" to win the battle of Surigao Strait in 1944.

On October 20 General MacArthur had opened the great battle for the islands after months of preparation from his headquarters in New Guinea. He seized the entire coast of Leyte Island in the attempt to split in two the Japanese forces in the Philippines. But as his ground and air forces were mopping up ashore, two enemy fleets were approaching from the South China Sea, planning to cut through the islands and pounce on the Leyte reoccupation.

One enemy force was steaming through San Bernardino Strait, while another was heading east through Surigao Strait. The first outfit was stopped after doing heavy damage to American vessels. The second was practically destroyed when, steaming in column through Surigao, it met Admiral Oldendorf's force strong out across the strait. The Japanese hardly knew what hit them. Two of their battleships and three destroyers were sunk, and two more ships that escaped were tracked down and sunk the next day. Never again did Japanese naval forces seriously threaten the American forces in the Philippine Islands.

Oldendorf did what Admiral Halsey wanted to do but never could—come personally to grips with the enemy fleet. And in the perfection of the crossing of the T Admiral Oldendorf has tucked away in his seachest of memories an exploit he can cherish in his retirement.

RESEARCH POINTS WAY
"Please pass the monosodium glutamate. This beef stew doesn't have much flavor."

Remarks like that may become normal table talk in American households before long—but except that because "monosodium glutamate" is such a mouthful, it probably will be known by some catch name such as "zest" or "cavor." Monosodium glutamate is a food seasoning which intensifies the flavor of most cooked meats and vegetables.

The possibilities of this "new" seasoning—it has been known and used for years in Japan and other parts of the Orient—is of particular interest to the sugar beet country because research has shown monosodium glutamate can be manufactured successfully as a by-product of beet sugar.

"The Gentleman from Indiana"

Be sure to read HOW WE WON THE WAR AND LOST THE PEACE by former Ambassador Bullitt in the August 30th issue of Life Magazine.

It is important background to the Communist "red herring" investigation.

Mr. Bullitt says President Roosevelt was so anxious to butter up Stalin that he tried to persuade the President against his fatuous role of appeasement. But Mr. Roosevelt told Bullitt: "Ed, I don't dispute your facts, they are accurate . . . I just have a hunch that Stalin is not that kind of a man. Harry says he's not . . . I think if I give him everything I possibly can and ask nothing from him in return, he won't try to annex anything and will work with me for a world of democracy and peace."

So, while 300,000 young Americans were dying, the High Command played by hunch, and as the bunches turned sour, the peace was lost.

As Bullitt says, Stalin now rides the saddle of both Hitler and Hirohito. Communism is gaining in China; Poland is betrayed; divided Germany is on the dole; and the Blue Danube rolls "red" to the sea.

Such is the price we, and the world, now pay for one-man, personal government!

epidemic of boozery swept the land.

As Bullitt says: "While our fighting men were winning the war, our government was losing the peace." That the peace is lost is now evident.

But why? Mr. Bullitt tells us. Harry Hopkins, ex-Y.M.C.A. Secretary, with this infinite ignorance of foreign affairs became Mr. Roosevelt's "chief adviser" on foreign affairs. Harry thought that by appeasement and good works, he and his chief could convert Stalin from a lifetime of blood and treachery to Chesterfieldian manners and Christian ways.

Bullitt, more hard-headed than Harry, didn't agree. He tried to persuade the President against his fatuous role of appeasement. But Mr. Roosevelt told Bullitt: "Ed, I don't dispute your facts, they are accurate . . . I just have a hunch that Stalin is not that kind of a man. Harry says he's not . . . I think if I give him everything I possibly can and ask nothing from him in return, he won't try to annex anything and will work with me for a world of democracy and peace."

Miss Elizabeth Webster Is Wed To William P. Newbold

HULMEVILLE, Sept. 8 — The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Webster, 209 Main street, was the setting last evening at the hour of six for the ceremony in which their daughter, Miss Elizabeth H. Webster, became the wife of Mr. William P. Newbold, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Newbold, Langhorne R.D. 2.

The Rev. Charles Benjamin, of Darby, former pastor of Neshaminy Methodist Church, officiated.

Previous to the ceremony "Prelude" and "Liebesnacht," recordings from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde" were played. Mrs. William Palmer, Langhorne, served as pianist, providing accompaniment for Miss Adeline E. Reetz, Green street, whose vocal offerings were "Until" and "All For You".

Gladoli in tones of lavender, yellow and white were attractively arranged throughout the rooms where the guests were gathered.

Mr. Webster gave his daughter in marriage. Her bridal gown was fashioned of white lace, trimmed with seed pearls. Her hat was of matching white lace. She carried a bouquet composed of lavender orchids, white pom-poms, stephanotis and trailing ivy.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Lewis Brunner, Bellevue avenue, sister of the bride-groom. Mrs. Brunner wore a gown of lavender linen, Ballerina length, with matching slippers. Her bouquet was composed of lavender orchids and yellow pom-poms, with trailing ivy used effectively.

Serving Mr. Newbold as best man was Mr. Aldridge Everett, Middletown township. The ushers were Messrs. William Palmer, Langhorne, and Edwin H. Webster, East Orange, N. J.

For the ceremony, Mrs. Webster, mother of the bride, wore dinner gown of black lace. Mrs. Newbold the bride-groom's mother, chose a dinner gown in peach and black.

A reception for 80 guests followed at the Webster home.

Selected by the bride as a travelling costume was a pink-blue gabardine suit and brown accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Newbold will reside at 2412 Spruce street, Philadelphia. Both are graduates of Langhorne-Middletown high school.

PLEXIGLAS TEAM WINS LAURELS IN SOFTBALL CIRCUIT

The 1948 Champions of the Bristol Industrial League is Rohm & Haas Plexiglas.

League supremacy was fully settled when the powerful Plexiglas team confirmed its regular season pennant laurels by sweeping past a strong Fleetwings club in the Governors Cup Championship Play-off finals, 5-2, 4-2, to extend its current winning streak to ten consecutive games and to capture all honors for the 1948 season. Presentation of the League Championship Trophy will be made to the triumphant Plexiglas squad during this week.

Perhaps a special team or league individual award should be presented at the same time to Plexiglas' Cahall, the R&H woodhorse who has buried the new champions to just about every win this year, including both victories over Fleetwings last week. The Plexiglas stalwart faltered only once throughout the play off finals as trouble loomed in the first inning of the first game when a Fleetwings uprising threatened with two out. Gallagher's walk and two follow-up singles by Sassi and Smith, which loaded the Fleetwings bags in the initial frame, seemed to rattle Cahill, and the Plexiglas star appeared to be cracking when he passed Carter Grant to force in the first run of the game. However, DiLissio flied directly for the third out and Cahall confidently assumed full control thereafter, despite Gallagher's fifth inning home run. Meanwhile, Fleetwings' base defenses blew apart to give the game away.

Plexiglas' Hutchinson tied the count in the first inning, when he singled, stole second, and raced home on the overthrow. The champions forged ahead in the third, counting twice on one hit. After reaching first on a Fleetwings error, Marple was tagged at second on a fielder's choice which put Imperato on. Hutchinson's triple chased Imperato all the way despite a throw to the plate, and Hutchinson again came in as the plate attempt on Imperato also resulted in an overthrow. Brunner did the Plexiglas base work in the fourth, when he doubled, stole third and then home Imperato finished it off in the Plexiglas sixth as he again reached base on a fielder's choice, stole second, and raced home on the third Fleetwing overthrow.

There was more of the same in Fleetwings' windup—encounter which saw Plexiglas off to a bounding lead in the opening inning when Carnivale singled, and scored on a long follow-up single by Oriola. Oriola advanced to second on an infield out and came all the way on an overthrow at third base.

However, Fleetwings replied strongly with one in the first when Sassi singled, advanced on Gallagher's single, and scored on a long fly; and it was all even in the fourth after the K-men rapped out three singles which brought Gallagher home.

Plexiglas won the game and the 1948 play offs in the fifth frame when Hutchinson, who had led the R&H attack throughout the series, blasted another triple to send in Mulchinock, who had singled ahead of him. The champions kept it from EVERY PROGRESSIVE STATE is doing all it can to attract new industries . . . for new industries are good business for the state and for its citizens.

If Pennsylvania could attract a new industry in which nearly one out of every 100 of its citizens would have a personal stake, either as an employee or an investor, what a great accomplishment that would be.

And if the new industry were to pay these people more than $100,000,000 in a single year, what a great thing that would be for Pennsylvania business and professional men.

And if the employees of the new industry resided in cities and towns throughout the state, what a boon that would be for local communities.

And if the new industry were to provide a service which all citizens of the state would use, what a vital industry that would be to everybody.

Pennsylvania already has an industry—not a new one, either—that meets those specifications to the letter.

It is this company, and it is growing every year.

need of leadership in the world, adding that "Rotarians will supply this need." He pointed out that there are a number of Rotarians in government posts in this country, as well as in England and Canada. He continued by giving information on how Rotary members in Switzerland have banded together to care for children of other countries maimed by the recent war. "Some of these children are without limbs, or have been scarred to the extent that plastic surgery was found necessary. Many of these, through the efforts of Rotary, have been fitted with artificial limbs, nursed back to health and returned to their homes. This proves that Rotary develops a spirit of friendship and international fellowship."

The Goodwill team will use a lighting system that is one of the most powerful in this section.

On Sunday, September 19, Goodwill will play Shamokin while the following Saturday, on the 25th, the local team will travel to Bordentown to play Bordentown Manual Training School. The hosemen will then play two more night games on the high school field, on October 9th and October 23rd.

Goodwill will hold another practice session on the Third Ward field Thursday evening. All players are requested to report to the coaches Joe Roe and Jesse Vanzant.

Mr. Abey later met with officers of the club and chairman of club committees, reviewing the programs for the coming year.

District Governor Abey, who became a member of Rotary in 1936 at Reading, is circulation manager of the Reading Eagle-Times and president of the Review Publishing Company, Clifton Forge, Va. His services to Rotary are impressive. He has served his club as president, vice-president, on the council of civic clubs, representative in the community chest, program chairman of the 179th International Rotary convention, and has attended the Havana, St. Louis, Toronto and Atlantic City international conventions. In addition he has held the chairmanship of virtually every committee in his club. He is a past-president of the Reading Chamber of Commerce; organized the Reading, Berks County, Industrial Pool during the war, was a member of the Second Army advisory board; now a member of the 118th Fighter Squadron's Army Board; associate re-employment committee man; and in church affairs was superintendent of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday School of Reading, president of the church's board of trustees, and is now an elder of the church.

Rental of rooms for the Pennsylvania State College Extension Education classes was granted. Eight or ten rooms will be used and the classes will start September 27th.

and "utility work." This last includes such specialized training as, for example, "Seeing Eye" dogs receive, or other dogs with a difficult mission in life. The class of September 1st was the fifth lesson in the "novice course," for dogs which had received no previous training at all. Each dog sat patiently by his master, then, as simple commands were given, the pet executed maneuvers skillfully at his master's side.

The pupils in this present course range all the way from the tiny Chihuahua to the Great Dane, in size, and come from many nearby localities. The students include a springer, a schnauzer and a terrier from Bristol, a great Dane and boxer from Fleetwing Estates, two dalmatians from Yardley, a boxer from Washington Crossing; a dachshund from Fallsington; and from Trenton a Doberman pinscher, a collie, a blue Doberman, three boxers and two Chihuahuas. This was the first

Progress in these lessons is truly amazing to one unfamiliar with the ability of dogs to respond to proper training. From completely uneducated pups at the start (the minimum age, however, is eight months), the pets progress in skill and obedience to where, as only the fifth lesson, most will sit quite still, on command, allowing strangers to walk by and around them, without being controlled by a leash. From here on, pets are trained to respond without the leash (which was used in early lessons), with a device known as a "training lead" or sometimes called a "choke collar."
